
Abstract: We develop a posteriori error estimates for the so-called ‘Linked Interpolation Technique’ to approximate the solution of plate bending problems. We show that the proposed (residual-based) estimator is both reliable and efficient.

AMS subject classifications: Primary 65N30; Secondary 74S05.

Keywords: Reissner-Mindlin plates, finite element methods, a posteriori error analysis.

Correspondence: Carlo Lovadina, Dipartimento di Matematica, Università di Pavia, and IMATI-CNR, Via Ferrata 1, Pavia I-27100, Italy (lovadina@dimat.unipv.it), Rolf Stenberg, Institute of Mathematics, Helsinki University of Technology, P.O. Box 1500, 02015 HUT, Finland (stenberg@hut.fi).